REVIEW

Mulled cherries, new leather, loamy earth, and spice-driven notes all emerge from the 2018 Château Tour De Pressac, a medium-bodied, charming, enjoyable Saint-Emilion. It shows more sappy flower and rose petal notes with time in the glass and is an elegant, delicious 2018 to drink any time over the coming decade or so. The second wine of Château de Pressac, it's based on 71% Merlot, 16% Cabernet Franc, and the rest Cabernet Sauvignon, Carménère, and Malbec.
