

WINE CHRONICLES

---

Grand tasting in Bordeaux: More 2015s
in bottle

---

By Panos Kakaviatos for wine-chronicles.com

18 February 2018

I arrived on a cold, yet sunny morning, to the spacious tasting room of Château de Pressac in Saint Emilion, welcomed by owner Jean-Francois Quenin, who is vice president of the Grand Cercle.

A beautiful if cold sunny morning to taste 150 wines, at Château de Pressac in Saint Emilion

- 2015 Château de Pressac – France, Bordeaux, Libournais, St. Émilion Grand Cru

Bravo to Château de Pressac for crafting a wine with a whopping 15% alcohol – rich and substantial – but it does not dry out. A touch heady, sure, but I could see why this would please many a fan. (92 pts.)

Jean-François Quenin, owner of Château de Pressac, not only made an excellent wine in 2015, but he cooks a mean steak, too.